

Come Alive Stories

Written by independent literacy consultant Jane Bunting, this new range of Come Alive Stories provides story cards, activity ideas and games to bring popular stories to life.

We're Going on a Bear Hunt

This new pack will encourage children to talk, play, read and write as they explore the story. The pack includes eight double-sided story cards, the front of each card depicts a scene from the story whilst the reverse offers talking points and related activity suggestions for small groups. Ideal for exploring focused areas of the story and story sequencing activities.

The 32-page guide is bursting with We're Going on a Bear Hunt activities to use across the curriculum. It includes a wealth of related ideas including role play, making puppets, photo stories, sending a bear home and finding a way to help the family safely across the river. Ideal for two players, the 'Find the bear' board game encourages children to use language as precisely as possible. A Resources CD-ROM offers a range of printable materials to support and extend the learning including a collection of colour photos with images of brown bears and polar bears in their natural habitats plus a range of bear hunt landscapes.

Handa's Surprise

The pack also includes story cards, a 32 page guide with suggestions including setting up a message wall, role play and investigating fruit. The 'Ask Handa' board game encourages children to use their vocabulary and word definition skills. A Resources CD-ROM offers many opportunities to support and extend learning. A selection of related colour photos is included on the disk showing Handa's fruit growing, her animal friends in their natural habitat and Kenyan landscapes.
